PEERLESS INDUSTRIES' NEW HG SERIES MOUNTS DELIVER A UNIFIED LOOK FOR FLAT PANEL SCREENS IN RESIDENTIAL AND CORPORATE ENVIRONMENTS

--HG Series Mounting Solutions Integrate the Latest Flat Panel Screen Finishes --

CHICAGO, IL –AIA 2007 – Peerless Industries, Inc., the industry leader in professional-grade audio/visual mounting solutions, today introduced its new HG Series of Universal Flat Panel Wall Mounts, developed to extend the stylish appearance of the flat panel all the way to the wall, providing a clean, elegant look to any residential and corporate project. The new HG Series of Universal Flat Panel Wall Mounts will be shown in the Peerless booth #9064 at AIA, May 3 -5, 2007, San Antonio, TX.

The new HG Series includes pivoting and articulating LCD and plasma wall mounts to complement the look of the latest flat panel screen finishes – high gloss piano black or high gloss silver – adding to the upscale appearance of the environment. The new mount series accommodates screens from 26 inches to 60 inches, making it easy to specify.

“Our new HG Series carries through the sophisticated look of the flat panel from the TV to the mount to the wall,” said Justin Sabetti, product manager, Peerless Industries, Inc. “The mount perfectly matches the latest screen colors, so that it appears as an extension of the TV rather than a separate accessory. With every project, the mounts in the HG Series will provide the appearance of a custom mount made specifically for the screen installed.”

Availability and Pricing
