PEERLESS' ACCENTS™ ACCESSORIES ENHANCE VIEWING EXPERIENCE

-- Cleans Screens, Enhances Signals, Protects the TV--

CHICAGO, IL – CES 2009 – Peerless Industries, Inc., the industry leader in professional-grade audio/visual mounting solutions today introduced Accents™ line of high-performance accessories that provide the tools to gently clean screens, enhance the visual experience and protect the TV from electrical surges. Visit Peerless booth number 21740 at CES 2008 and be the first to explore the new Accents accessories.

“Accents is about enrichment of the total viewing experience,” said Adam Molberger, product manager, Peerless Industries, Inc. “We’ve developed a versatile and affordable line of accessories that support the everyday screen care and protection needs of consumers.”

Accentuate the Screen on Every Level

Accents line of A/V accessories includes ten performance models. The must-have screen cleaner line is alcohol- and ammonia-free, and come with unique MicroFiber™ cloths especially designed to trap dirt and debris to leave a streak-free shine. High-performance HDMI cables ensure the image is digitally transferred without loss of fidelity, plus versatile surge protectors protect the television investment from damaging power surges and lightning. Accents accessories make it simple to select the perfect level of screen care and performance enhancement technology for the application.

Must See at CES 2009

Peerless' new Accents line of performance enhancing accessories will be shown for the first time at CES 2009, booth number 21740, Las Vegas, NV, January 8-11, 2009. The new line will be available Q1 2009.
