PEERLESS TO DEBUT 12 ARTICULATING ARM MODELS AND MOST INTEGRATOR FRIENDLY PROJECTOR MOUNT AT CEDIA 2007

-- A Must Experience, Flat Panel and Projector Mounting Solutions in Booth Number 958 --

CHICAGO, IL –CEDIA 2007 – With a host of new and innovative products, Peerless Industries, Inc., the industry leader in professional-grade audio/visual mounting solutions is highlighting new mounts for flat panels, projectors and A/V equipment. Be the first to experience Peerless' new SmartMount™ Articulating Arm Wall Mounts and the groundbreaking technology of the PRG Precision Gear Projector Mount. Visit Peerless' booth, number 958, at CEDIA, Denver, CO, September 6-9, 2007.

New Products

- New SmartMount™ Articulating Arm Wall Mounts for 32-inch to 63-inch screens provide the most room for internal cable management of any articulating arm within its category. Also includes features for ease of installation and offers a new high-tech look. The end result -- astounding. Must be seen in person!
- Experience the first-of-its-kind projector mounting technology that will forever change the way projector image alignment is done. The projector mount's precision gearing system provides pin-point image alignment that will become the new standard, making good enough image alignment no longer good enough.
- Re-engineered flat and tilt wall mounts for 32-inch to 50-inch screens for the most popular TV sizes make installation more efficient and keep costs down.
- A home theater in the backyard? Peerless can make it happen with its new line of year-round, weather-resistant and secure Universal Outdoor Enclosures. The new enclosures include standard heating and A/C units, no customization required.

Sneak Peak

- A/V equipment has found a new home. A new line of double stud and single stud component shelving system centers A/V components under the mounted TV for a clean, contemporary presentation.
- In-wall mounts create a picture perfect installation. All the functionality of a pivot or articulating mount, with a clean, flush look.
